KALANIANA'OLE HOLDS UP NEW POSTMASTERS

Under the new Democratic administration this rule has been apparently changed. Selections are now being made solely because the persons named are Democrats. The matter of fitness or competency is not taken into consideration.

"I could not subscribe to this doctrine and requested a hearing before the senate committee. I do not expect to accomplish anything beyond placing myself on record. I desire my views to be known, and the change made clearly evident, before the persons named are confirmed. The postmasters involved in the hold-up are:

Harry D. Corbett to be postmaster at Hilo, Hawaii, in place of George Deeba. Incumbent's commission expired April 1, 1913.

J. M. Sousa to be postmaster at Kohala, Hawaii, in place of Arthur J. Stillman. Incumbent's commission expired February 13, 1913.

A. F. Costa to be postmaster at Wailuku, Hawaii, in place of M. T. Lyons. Incumbent's commission expired December 16, 1912.

To this short list has now been added H. H. Plemmer, Wailuku, succeeding Charles A. De Cew and M. J. Borges, at Schofield Barracks, succeeding Mrs. Minnie Goldsburg.

The delegate said he had no personal objection to these nominees beyond the broad principle involved that the officers are not political and should not be so regarded.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH

BUSINESS MEETING

An important business meeting of the Christian Church is called for this evening at the church at 7:30. The members are urged to be present.

Obadiah Stone, a native of Thompson, Conn., estimates that he has walked 30,000 miles while on duty as a watchman in the mills of that town. Mr. Stone is 73 years old and has been night watchman for fifty-three years.

MACHINERY GOES TO THE ORIENT

Three hundred tons machinery, to be incorporated in the big plant at San Carlos, southern Philippines, are today going into the Pacific Mail line, scheduled to sail for Japan, China ports and Manila at six o'clock this evening.

Additional space was reserved for this material before the Korea left San Francisco. Immediately following the Korea's arrival at the wharf, stevedores began the discharge of eighty tons of mainland merchandise, and placing aboard of five hundred tons coal.

The Pacific Mail liner steamed through fine weather until yesterday afternoon when much rain was encountered. The elements are said to have conspired against the success of a dance and entertainment, to have been given on the broad and spacious decks of the liner.

It gave local waterfronters and shipping men much pleasure to again greet William Allen, the well known purser, who for the past three months has been under the care of his physician, and who has at last succeeded in winning back his usual good health, through a delightful vacation on his ranch near Santa Clara.

Allen left the Korea at Honolulu on a former outward voyage, and for a time grave fears were expressed at his ultimate recovery. The rest ashore has worked wonders with the popular steamship official.

The Korea continues the voyage to the coast of Asia with barely thirty cabin passengers. Leaving the liner at this port are 55 cabin and 10 second class passengers.

The through list includes 21 cabin, 11 second class and 107 Asiatic steerage passengers. Several deported Chinese are under guard and will be turned over to the Chinese authorities upon arrival at Hongkong. The Korea is well filled with a through cargo, cotton being the material that fills every nook and corner of the great ship.

The Korea is sailing on the new joint schedule. A dozen Philippine insular government employees are proceeding to Manila and to return to duty. Several well known missionaries in the east are enroute to their stations.

WILL FACILITATE MOVEMENT OF MAIL IN SAN FRANCISCO

Following an institution which has been in vogue in Honolulu for some time past, it is probable that mail will be removed from incoming vessels by a tug before the vessel reaches port. The following Washington dispatch tells of the new arrangements:

WASHINGTON.—After a conference with Edgar Painter of San Francisco, Postmaster-General Burleson agreed that tugs should be employed to meet incoming steamers at San Francisco to expedite the delivery of foreign mails. Bids for the tug service will be advertised for within a few weeks.

BREAKWATER MATTER STILL IS UNDECIDED

What action the United States army engineers will take in regard to the Hilo breakwater, work on which has been suspended, is not known here at the present time. Major W. P. Woolen, in charge of rivers and harbors work in the islands, has come to no decision in the matter, and is waiting for advice from D. E. Metzger, local superintendent for the contractors, the Breakwater Company of Philadelphia, who is now in the east, conferring with his principals.

"The reason that work has now been stopped on the breakwater," said Major Woolen this morning, "is that there is no rock for the slopes that comes up to the specifications. We allowed the core to be extended out 300 feet, but do not care to have it go out further without protection of the heavier rock for slopes and cap, as a heavy storm might cause damage. The contractors seem unable to get suitable rock from their quarry. I have not decided what action to recommend in case of an extended delay. There are two courses open to the United States, should the contractors abandon the contract, or should the government decide to cancel it for any good reason. One would be to re-advertise for bids, and hold the bondsmen of the present contractors responsible for the difference between the original contract price, and that of the new contract, should it be on the high side. The second course would be for the army engineers to do the work, and charge the bondsmen for any excess in cost over the present contract figure. In either case the Breakwater Company of Philadelphia would be paid for the amount of work already completed."

The contract of the Breakwater Company of Philadelphia for the superstructure of the Hilo breakwater is $2,17 per ton, which amounts to about $450,000 for the job. The American Surety Company, of New York, is on the contractors' bond for $225,000.

It is rumored in local business circles that the lack of rock is not the only difficulty which faces the contractors.

'ROOKIES' TRAIN SET UP A NEW TIME RECORD

San Francisco officials of the Union Pacific Railroad have figured out that the U. P. special that brought 152 recruits from Denver for the United States army at Honolulu has established a new speed record between Denver and Oakland pier. The total elapsed time for the trip as certified by John S. McClure of the Denver passenger department, who was on the train, was 42 hours 37 minutes, or a rate in excess of 45 miles an hour throughout.

So far as officials can ascertain this time has never been equaled by a passenger train between the points named.

KOREAN IS NOT WORRIED OVER HIS VICTIMS

Refuses to Talk Regarding His Attempt to Take the Life of Friend

New facts brought to light this morning surrounding the wild scene near Palama Junction yesterday afternoon when Choy Young Sun, a Korean, attempted to murder Charles H. M. Pock, and ended by fatally wounding him, and slightly injuring the latter's Japanese wife and infant son, as well as You Sung Soo, show that the act of the Korean was not unpremeditated, but had been planned for weeks.

Believing that he had been outdone in a transaction with Pock, Choy, it is alleged, swore a week ago that he would not only kill him but would also end the life of Lorrin Andrews and W. T. Rawlins, who had acted in investigating his transaction. His friends laughed at him when he is said to have made these threats.

But rushing into his store at Palama, which he rents from Pock, the Korean dispelled the belief that he was not serious in his threat yesterday afternoon, and before the smoke issuing from his revolver had cleared, four persons lay on the floor, his victims. Pock, the only one seriously injured, was rushed to the Queen's hospital, where he still remains in a critical condition with but slight hope for his recovery.

Leaving the store as quickly as he had entered, Choy disappeared, and the road he traveled until late in the afternoon when he alighted from a hack in front of the police station, still brandishing a revolver, and announced himself ready to be placed under custody, may never be known.

In the meantime, as the police had been searching for Choy in the Palama district, Mr. Rawlins called at the station and reported that he had heard that Choy was threatening to kill him and others, because of some alleged grievance he had in his supposed outdoing in the transaction.

It was stated this morning that Choy went to Mr. Rawlins and asked him to look into a transaction and bring suit. The attorney advised him, after an investigation of three weeks, that he did not have a case, which advice, it is understood, other attorneys had given him.

So far as could be learned this morning, a suit was brought against Choy for the purchase price of merchandise, and after it was brought to judgment, some personal property of Choy's was seized. He was sold under execution. To protect Choy, and prohibit the sale of the goods at a sacrifice, Pock agreed to pay off the judgment, and papers were signed before a notary by which Choy conveyed some property to Pock in consideration of the latter paying off the judgment.

This is the deal which worked up on the Korean's mind. He was heard to complain that it was unfair and at times denied that he had signed the instruments, and later called upon several attorneys, the last of whom was Mr. Rawlins. The latter stated that after a thorough investigation he had advised Choy that he did not have ground for an action. Other attorneys are said to have given him similar advice, but the Korean kept doggedly to his determination to avoid the deal, and at last when it became known to him that this was impossible, he was heard to swear that he would kill Pock and the attorneys.

Choy did not wish to talk this morning. He seemed little troubled about the tragedy and little concerned with the condition of Pock. The latter's wife was struck by two bullets, the first piercing her hand and inflicting a flesh wound on the baby. The second entered her leg. You Sung Soo was only scratched by a bullet. He is part owner of the store.

GEORGE THIELEN SAYS REPORT OF MARRIAGE IS MOST AUTHENTIC

George Thielen, whose engagement to Sadie K. Stewart was published yesterday, announced this morning that they will be married within a few days, though the definite time has not yet been set. Thielen could not be found yesterday when it became known that he was to marry the pretty young woman who sought damages from Bruce Potter for breach of promise, but this morning when he was seen he stated that the report was absolutely true and that within a few days he will be a married man.

IS IT THE SENATOR?

Mr. D. E. Metzger is a name appearing on the advance list of passengers to arrive on the Sonoma, due in Honolulu next Monday, which caused the friends of the senator to wonder whether it is he. The last heard of him, within the last couple of days he was either in Washington or Philadelphia, which would make it impossible for him to arrive the 9th.

ASCOT REACHED HONOLULU TODAY

If no contagious disease is found on the British steamer Ascot, now off the port from Spain and Portugal, with 1323 Spanish immigrants that vessel may be permitted to enter the harbor and take a berth at the Channel wharf.

It is the present intention to land the passengers at the rate of about four hundred a day until the entire number have passed through the hands of the federal immigration bureau and turned over to the territorial authorities.

The Ascot, steamed from Cardiff sixty days ago. This vessel passed into the Pacific by the way of the Straits of Magellan. The Ascot is understood to have taken on a considerable shipment of coal destined for discharge here.

Mr. Fred Waldron, the local representative for the vessel, together with Dr. F. T. Trotter and a staff of federal medical officers, visited the Ascot while off quarantine this morning.

According to late information received by the territorial immigration bureau, nineteen deaths occurred among the thirteen hundred persons on board.

The local agents have been informed that health and sanitation conditions on board the liner are good. From what could be learned this afternoon, no quarantinable disease exists.

IS YOUR HAIR FALLING OUT?

Do not worry about the threatened departure of youth and beauty. Why not? Because, if there is a spark of life remaining in the roots of the hair, will arouse it into healthy activity. The hair will then cease to come out, will begin to grow, will be made soft and smooth, and all without changing the color. Consult your doctor about these hair problems.

Ayer's Hair Vigor

If you are weak and nervous, and your digestion all out of order, of course you must not expect healthy hair; the hair suffers with the rest of the body. Correct any constitutional weakness with a constitutional medicine—Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Prepared by DR. J. C. AYER & CO., Lowell, Mass., U. S. A.
